More About Vail Valley

Location and Transportation

The Vail Valley is the most centrally located mountain community within the state of CO and easily accessible via I-70. Ground transportation is available from both Eagle County Regional Airport (EGE) and Denver International Airport (DEN). Group rates are offered.

Vail/Eagle County Regional Airport (EGE) is served by three major U.S. carriers. The airport is located just 30 minutes from the Vail Valley, offering direct non-stop service from 13 cities across the U.S. during the winter season and four during the spring/summer/fall. Year-round service is available from Denver. Visit flyvail.com for more information.

Denver International Airport (DEN) is served by 23 major international and domestic carriers, including hub airlines United & Frontier. Vail is located 100 miles from Denver International Airport, a convenient 2-hour, scenic drive via Interstate 70.

General Description

The Vail Valley is not just your typical meetings destination, but home to Vail & Beaver Creek resorts and the beautiful towns of Avon and Edwards, Colorado. The Vail Valley offers a wide array of unique venues for any group, large or small, making us the premiere headquarters for a true Colorado Rocky Mountain experience.

Self-Contained Resorts Provide the Perfect Environment for Groups

We understand that a key priority is finding a destination to easily accommodate your room and program requirements. Designed after the alpine villages of Europe, our pedestrian villages are a perfect self-contained meeting site. Our wide selection of intimate alpine lodges, convenient condominium and convention hotels allows us to accommodate groups of 10-2,000 people. In addition, there are over 250 shops and restaurants, all accessible by complimentary in-town transportation.

Recreation & Attractions

Beyond the boardroom, the mountains await... whether your attendees find themselves riding the gondola up to the mountaintop, whisking downhill on a mountain bike, or simply wading in a field of wildflowers, the wilderness will enchant you. The Vail Valley's variety of activities include: ziplining, golf, horseback riding, fly-fishing, kayaking, hiking, biking, rafting, dining, shopping and more. When your busy day is done, pamper yourself at one of our spas, where trained specialists await to soothe, nurture, and heal the body and soul.
